CORPS TO CUT FOUR BATTALIONS & 12 SQUADRONS

WASHINGTON (Reuters)--The Marine Corps said on Mar. 14 it would cut four infantry battalions and 12 flying squadrons over the next five years as it shrinks by 20,000 personnel to meet budget constraints and peacetime needs after more than a decade of war.

The biggest cuts would fall on Marine Corps bases in North Carolina, with Camp Lejeune and the adjacent MCAS, New River losing 5,800 personnel and MCAS, Cherry Point losing another 2,100. Three California Marine bases--Camp Pendleton, 29 Palms and Miramar--would lose a total of 6,000 personnel.

LtGen. Richard Mills, head of the Combat Development Command, said the reductions would take place over five years "on a slope as opposed to a cliff" and would take place through "natural attrition," giving Marines a chance to serve out the terms of their contracts.

"The impact on the individual Marine will mostly be through re-enlistments," Mills said. "We're obviously going to ... need fewer Marines, so re-enlistments will tighten up. A Marine is ... really going to have to be professionally qualified, personally qualified and really be top performers to find a slot to stay in the career force."

The cuts are part of the Pentagon's efforts to reduce projected spending by $487 billion over the next decade as called for in a budget agreement last autumn between Congress and President Barack Obama.

The cuts begin to take effect in the budget for the 2013 fiscal year that Defense Secretary Leon Panetta unveiled a month ago. The plan calls for $525.4 billion in base defense spending, about $5.1 billion less than approved for 2012. It also seeks $88.5 billion for the war in Afghanistan.

Mills said the force reduction plan would cut the size of the Marine Corps to about 182,100 personnel from the current 202,000 by the end of 2016, keeping it a "middle-weight force capable of being forward deployed, capable of expeditionary operations."

The plan will reduce the number of infantry battalions to 23 from 27 to take account of the

COMMANDANT'S COLUMN

Marines,

Well, we have a new Detachment Commandant.

Joe Kier has stood up to take the lead for awhile (probably more of a while than he may think) but none the less he has taken command.

Now I know how supportive this Detachment can be and I ask you to give our new Commandant all of the support you have shown me over the years.

Plan on coming to the April meeting for the installation of the new officers. It is really good to see some of the newer members getting involved. Thanks to Vince DeBella for stepping up to take the office of Junior Vice Commandant. I'm sure that he will do a great job, and again he will need all our support. Let's make his job a bit easier...sell your raffle tickets!

The Detachment has come a long way over the years, our numbers have grown, we are getting some new younger members and we continue to be a tight knit group of Marines. You guys make it a pleasure to come to the meetings.

Our participation in the rifle and pistol matches put on by the Department of Pennsylvania continues to grow. For the first time we took a serious rifle trophy and with the amount shooters we have turning out for the pistol match this year it won't be long until we are winning something on that end also. If you want to get involved and come shooting when the team starts practice call me and I'll let you know when and where.

Semper Fidelis,

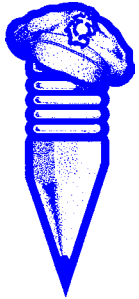

Budd Pearce

GOODIES FOR THE TROOPS

Peggy Sundling, who continues to send "Goodies to the Troops," has provided a sampling of items which are needed for the shipments. She cautions, "NO CHOCOLATE!" Items include Moist Wipes--with or without aloe (some people are allergic); Beef Jerky/Slim Jims--very popular; Hard Candy--no lollipops; Lotions and Moisturizers; Lip Balm; Chewing Gum; Crackers/Snacks/Granola Bars--in individual packages for easy toting; Fruit Snacks/Raisins--in individual packages; Writing Tablets/Envelopes/Pens; Crossword Puzzles; Magazines--military, automotive, hunting, etc. (used, are fine); Drink Mixes--individual envelopes.

Thanks, Marines, for your continued support!

Army-Navy Fencing Meet Slated for Warrington Club

Liberty Fencing Club of Warrington will host the first stand-alone Army-Navy dual meet in decades.

Cadets from the U. S. Military Academy at West Point (NY) will be fencing the Midshipmen from the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis (MD) on Apr. 21 at the club's Warrington location.

Check Out Our Detachment Web Site
www.mclcb.org

Army and Navy will each field full men's and women's fencing teams which will compete separately in an NCAA dual meet format. In that format, there will be nine bouts per gender per weapon (27 bouts per gender).

Each weapon squad (epee, sabre, foil) in each gender must win five of nine bouts to win; each gender team must win 14 of 27 bouts to win, and the team with 28 or more victories takes the overall combined men's/women's six-weapon team crown.

The British Royal Marines will be a special guest and will field a foil squad to compete against the foil squads from Army and Navy.

Those matches will be in Olympic format, scored on a 45-touch relay.

The men's events are tentatively scheduled to begin at 1 p.m. and conclude around 2:30 p.m. The women's events are scheduled to begin immediately after the men's events.

This is a great opportunity for people to see a collegiate fencing meet close to home and, more importantly, support the future leaders and officers of our Armed Forces.

There is no entry fee. Admission is on a first-come, first-served basis and is free and open to the public.

smaller size of the force. Aircraft squadrons would be reduced to 58 from the current 70. And three headquarters units also would be cut.

The redesigned Marine Corps force structure would bolster capabilities in some areas as envisioned by a new U.S. military strategy unveiled by Panetta in early January. The strategy calls for a shift in emphasis to the Pacific as well as an increased emphasis on special operations forces.

The Marine Corps plan would only cut 200 personnel in Hawaii. It did not elaborate on how bases in Japan would be effected. Mills said those details were still being worked out.
